

TechStore - Return Policy

Customers can request a return within 14 calendar days of receiving the order.

Returned products must be unused, complete, and in their original packaging with accessories and documentation.

Products that are damaged because of misuse are not eligible for a standard return.

Clearance items marked as final sale cannot be returned unless they arrive damaged or defective.

After a returned product is received and inspected, an approved refund is normally processed within 5 business days.

Shipping fees are refundable only when the product is defective, damaged on arrival, or the wrong item was delivered.
